

South Trail

The starting point for this trail is at the channel "Sharski Vodi", which leads to a wide unpaved road that starts between the villages Negotino and Senokos. On the channel, at an altitude of 1350 m, there is a water catchment that collects the water of the Mzdracha River and enters it into the channel. There is a building structure here and the trail to the peak starts from this point. The direction of movement is to west. The first 300 meters of the trail are going through a forest belt, crossing into a pasture area, from where the trail to the peak Golema Vraca starts and goes along the southeast ridge of the slope of Shar Mountain. It is a steep climb with attractive views over the other parts of Shara. The descent is on the southern ridge up to the saddle towards Mala Vraca or along the same trail.
